“It’s only a matter of time before the world finds out about LI'TYA”

Never before has there been a range of high-performance skincare products that unlock the potent powers of Australian native botanicals. LI'TYA infuses these products into spa rituals adapted from ancient Aboriginal healing modalities.

“I wanted to honour the connection between our land and its people by creating a results-driven spa care range that encompasses the plant wisdom and healing modalities of the ancient Aboriginal culture.”

“The spa treatments create a sacred space in which you can relax and be cleansed. I was smiling gently to myself for a few hours afterwards and my skin was noticeably clearer”

The Good Spa Guide

There are three remarkable ranges in the LI'TYA skincare story.

One is their ultra advanced marine-based anti-ageing line that unlocks the power of organic Marine Plant Collagen, Mother of Pearl and Marine Algae for line minimization, tone enhancement and pore refinement.

The second is the “of the earth” range that utilizes the potency of Australian native botanicals such as Lillypilly and Kakadu

Plum, which has been clinically proven to contain 700% more antioxidants than blueberries.

The third is a complex range of effective Facial Elixirs formulated to target specific skin types and conditions and includes Age Defence, Balance, Align, Protect and Vitality which has been labeled 'skin food'.

“The in-depth training provided to our spa therapists on both product and treatment levels has totally transformed our business.”
